Brinks Gilson & Lione IP Litigator Jeffery Handelman Presents at 25th Annual Fordham IP Conference

April 21, 2017

CHICAGO—Trademark attorney Jeffery A. Handelman, a shareholder at intellectual property law firm Brinks Gilson & Lione, will be a panelist for “EU Boards of Appeal & U.S. Trademark Trial and Appeal Board: Where Have They Been? Where Are They Going?” on April 21, 2017, at the 25th Annual Fordham Intellectual Property Law & Policy Conference at Fordham University School of Law in New York.

With more than 30 years of experience in handling complex intellectual property litigation, Handelman focuses his practice on trademark, unfair competition, trade dress, dilution, false advertising, copyright, licensing, trade secret, and Internet-related matters, and his clients include some of the world's best known brands. He has earned recognition nationwide as an authority on trademark law, including practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office's Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB). Handelman is the author of the two-volume Guide to TTAB Practice, a leading treatise in the field.

The Fordham Intellectual Property Law Institute develops initiatives to foster progress toward identifying and resolving issues of concern to the IP community and permit policy-makers to formulate integrated approaches to such concerns. It offers a forum for assessing developments that could seriously affect the international IP regime.

Brinks Gilson & Lione is a Patron-level sponsor of the 25th Annual Fordham Intellectual Property Law & Policy Conference. Visit <http://fordhamipinstitute.com/program/2017/> for more information.
