Brinks Gilson & Lione's New Shareholders

June 13, 2019

CHICAGO – Brinks Gilson & Lione, one of the largest intellectual property law firms in the United States, is proud to announce that Virginia Wolk Marino in Chicago and Dr. Joshua E. Ney in Ann Arbor have become Shareholders of the firm.

“Our new shareholders are highly talented, industrious and accomplished attorneys, each committed to delivering exceptional client service,” said Gustavo Siller, President of Brinks Gilson & Lione. “They’re wonderful ambassadors for the firm, and I’m proud to welcome them to the shareholder ranks.”

- Virginia Wolk Marino focuses her practice on all aspects of domestic and global brand protection, copyright and unfair competition law. Her trademark prosecution and counseling practice includes the acquisition, maintenance, licensing, enforcement and transfer of intellectual property. With experience in the pharmaceutical and life sciences sectors, she works with clients to develop and maintain their global trademark portfolios. Virginia received her J.D. from The George Washington University Law School, and her B.A. with distinction from the University of Michigan.
- Dr. Joshua Ney represents clients in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and chemical industries in patent litigation and patent prosecution matters and counsels clients on due diligence and freedom-to-operate issues. His litigation experience includes matters in the U.S. district courts as well as inter partes review proceedings before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board. Josh represents pharmaceutical clients in matters involving new chemical entities, second medical uses, pharmaceutical formulations, synthetic processes and pharmaceutical polymorphs. He earned his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Michigan Law School, his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan and a B.A., magna cum laude, from Dartmouth College.
